STEP-BY-STEP TOWARDS MORE SUSTAINABLE FABRICS

At Stellini, we aim to make fabrics from natural, recycled or sustainably produced fibres that do not harm the environment in its production. We are determining a long-term action plan to prevent waste, save resources and make developments with sustainable raw materials.

SOME OF OUR GREEN STEPS

- We recently installed 1020 solar panels for a production from clean, renewable energy.
- We do not use water in our production process.
- Textile waste from our production is collected and distributed to companies that reuse it as a raw material in their business.
- We partner with initiatives and suppliers that take action for the environment
- We develop products based on sustainable raw materials, such as Re-USE yarn

FRECC!

COOLING FABRICS

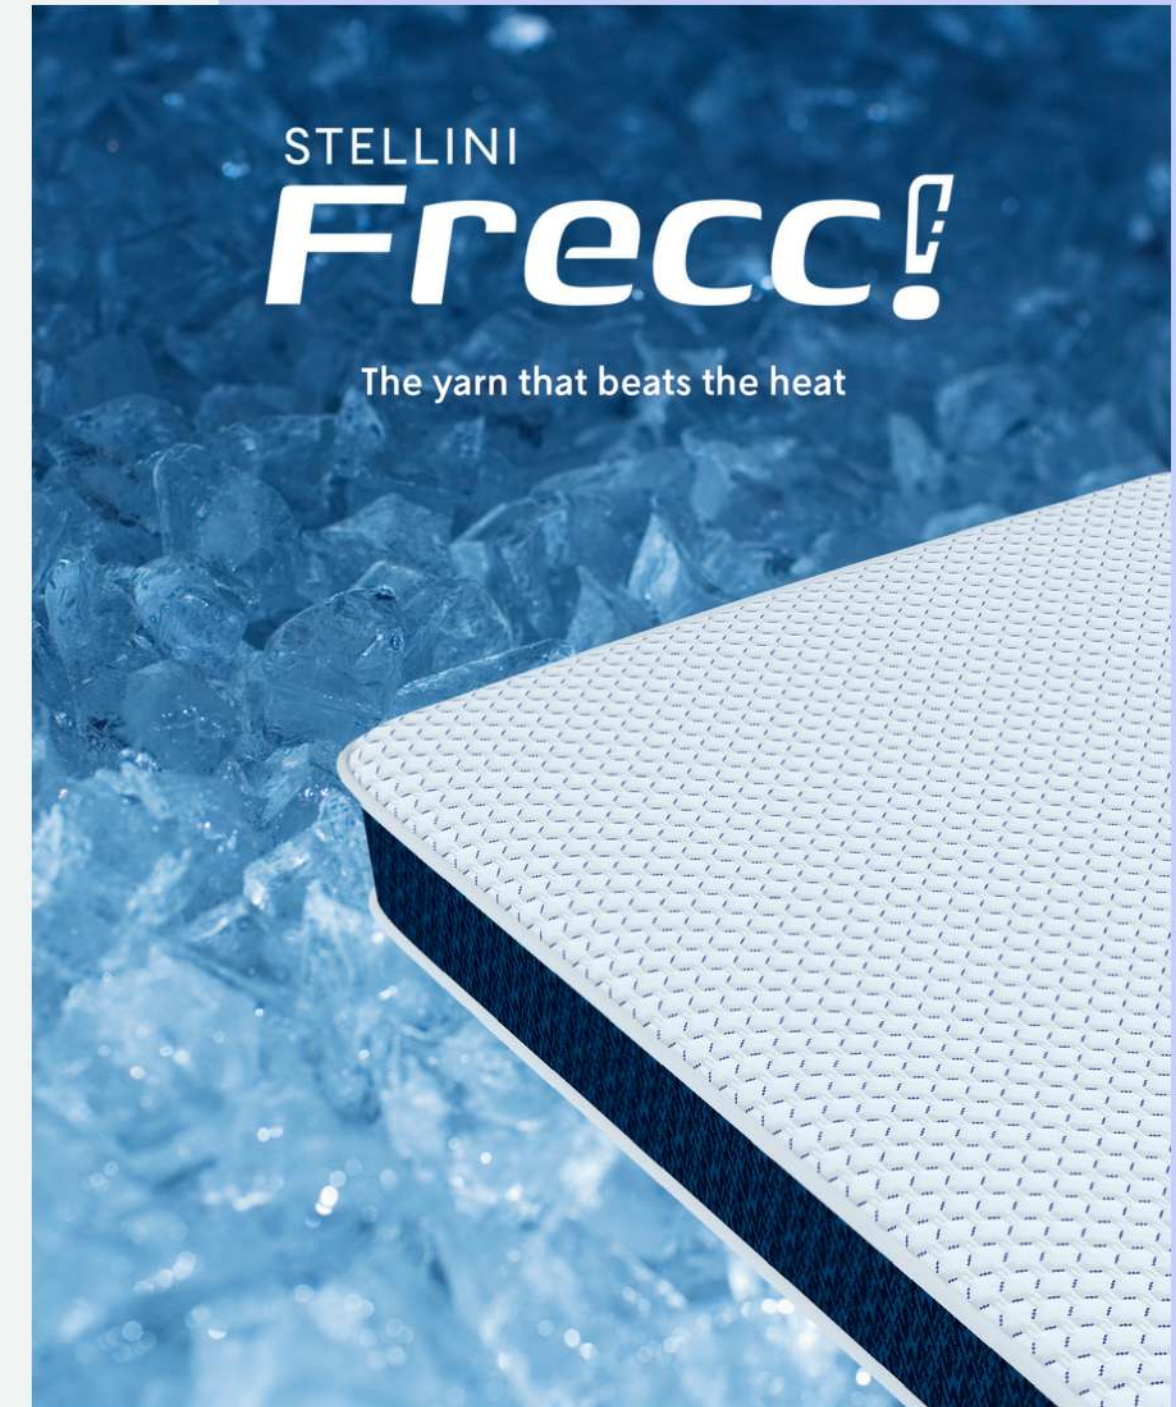

FRECC! is a polyethylene-based yarn that provides superior cooling thanks to modifications in the fiber's molecular structure. These ensure better thermal conductivity so that excess body heat is dissipated faster.

That's catching two birds with one stone: while FRECC! ensures a better sleep quality, it also helps us to save on energy!

RE-USE

MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE

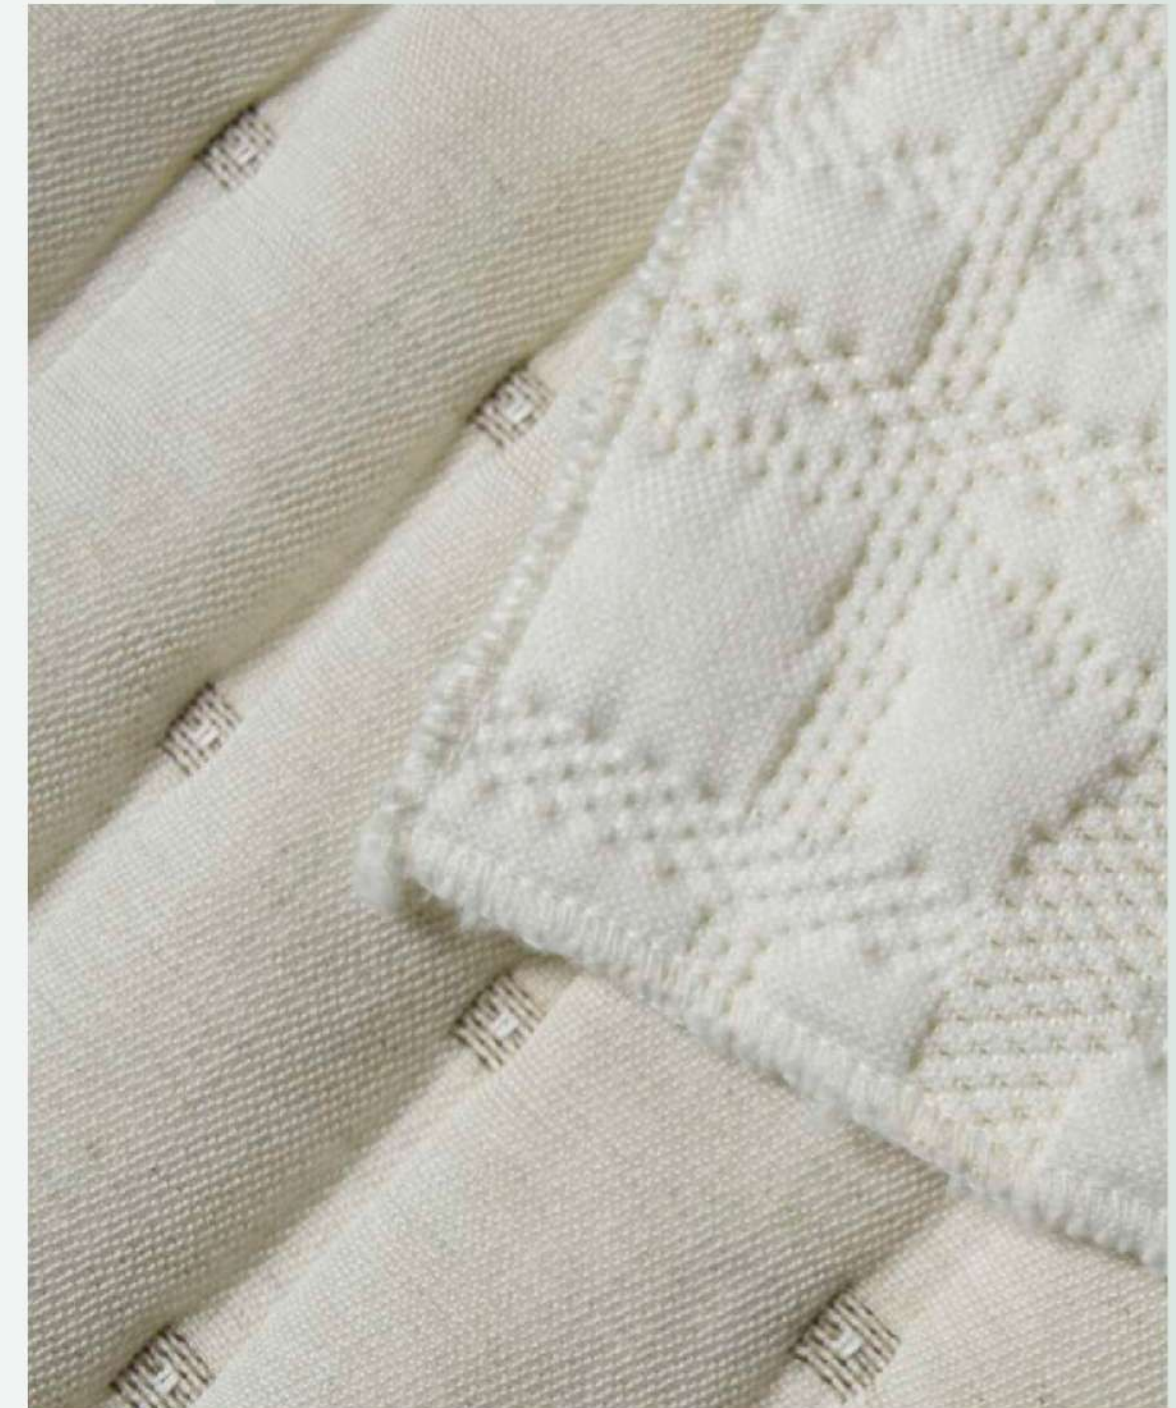

Typically, plastic bottles are made from PET, which is a highly recyclable material. Polyester yarn is one of its promising new applications and we are excited to put it into use with our Re-Use fabric.

More than just finding a new life for waste, it is the way it is produced and how it can be reused that makes Re-Use so unique: the production process of the fiber reduces soil contamination, air and water pollution; Saves natural resources and energy; Is endlessly recyclable.

TENCEL™ REFIBRA™ technology

CONTRIBUTION TO CIRCULAR ECONOMY

In the emerging circular economy of the future, nothing is treated as waste. What is left over from one process becomes input to another, so keeping it circulating. REFIBRA™ technology gives a second life to pre- and post-consumer sources - which would otherwise be sent to landfills or incinerated - by upcycling it into brand new cellulosic fiber materials for clothing and home products.
